Rev. Marshall Promoted To Pomona Church

Rev. Thomas R. Marshall, vicar of St. Andrew's Episcopal church here since April 1937, this week received a call from St. Paul's parish in Pomona to become rector of that large church beginning September 1. The invitation was issued by the Pomona vestry at a recent meeting.

In accepting the new and broader field of service, the retiring Torrance vicar expressed a profound regret at having to leave this city. He said it is his hope that the church will continue to grow in the future as it has in the past.

A successor to Rev. Marshall will be appointed by Bishop Bertrand Stevens at an early date and in the meantime, Rev. George E. Wharton, Phoenix, Arizona, will serve the local parish. Rev. Marshall plans to hold a farewell service at St. Andrew's church Sunday, August 17. He is now on vacation with his family at Newport Beach.

Since he came here, Rev. Marshall has more than doubled the membership of the Episcopal church, increasing the number of communicants from 100 to approximately 230. His call to Pomona is regarded as a well-earned promotion.

Pioneer Steel Man Succumbs

D. H. Botchford of Los Angeles, pioneer in the development of the steel industry in the West and one of the organizers of the Columbia Steel Corporation which took over the Llewellyn Iron Works here, died last Wednesday at a Santa Monica hospital after a prolonged illness. He lived with his wife, Frances, at 3017 Manning ave., Los Angeles.

During the World War he became vice-president in charge of operations at the local steel plant, a position he held until 1928 when the firm became a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation. In addition to his widow, Mr. Botchford was survived by his brother, James R. Wilkes of this city.
